Urban Design Thinking

Workshop

The aim of the three day workshop is the development of various toolkits that will demonstrate perspectives for the use of the Multihalle and will enable future users of the hall to take action and participate. As is common in the process of design thinking, both the creative approach as well as the structure-oriented concepts of business modelling and prototyping will be used within an interactive approach in order to be able to present a realistic and economically viable concept for the future use of the Multihalle.

The architectural proposal selected from the international competition should serve as the basis for the conceptual and transdisciplinary design thinking process.

When: April 3-5, 2019, 10.00 am - 06:00 pm
